1. Ukrainians in Argentina who turned in their old passports for new Soviet documents are reported to be increasingly disturbed because they have not yet received the promised Soviet permits which would enable them to travel to the Soviet Ukraine.
2. Although the Ukrainian applicants had been previously informed by Soviet diplomatic representatives in Buenos Aires and Montevideo that their travel permits would be available shortly after the beginning of 1948, these Ukrainians are now being informed that the necessary clearances have not arrived from Moscow. A variety of excuses have been given by the Soviet officials.
